

TerpsTalk

New!

A Spanish and French Language Camp at the University of Maryland, College Park

Sign up today to learn Spanish or French this summer at the University of Maryland! Grounded in 10 years of research by the university's National Foreign Language Center, TerpsTalk provides beginning and intermediate Spanish and French students the ideal language learning experience. Our teachers will bring language alive, helping you communicate with confidence outside the classroom. Engage with language in a way that is fun, prepares you for real-life situations, and gives you a leg up in your language classes in the fall!
